Summer 2016 Performing Arts Season IX PRESS RELEASE – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Moonlit Wings Debuts Theater-for-Youth Productions in Collaboration with Fairfax County Park Authority and Announces Playwriting Contest Winners

Moonlit Wings, a celebrated entertainment production company located in DC NoVA, announced today the winners of its annual Playwriting Contest. The Playwriting Contest is an international competition and the selected writers have their scripts field tested and produced up to three times during the summer season each with a different cast and venue. Performances are free and previous productions have continued to off-Broadway and received publishing.

WINNERS:

Fairy Fort by Lavinia Roberts

Hansel and Gretel Meet The Wizard by Carol Rice

Cam Jansen and the Mystery at Camp Eagle Lake by Rachel Atkins

- Local talent ages 7-14 star in the shows and teens run behind-the-scenes.
- Productions are directed by a professional group of DC and NY acting pros with new staging every two weeks.
- Most productions are themed to community outreach projects. Previous themes - homeless shelters, SPCA and Salvation Army.

Moonlit Wings has presented over 50 free world premieres of new theater-for-youth productions every summer since 2008 through its Performing Arts Camp in collaboration with the Fairfax County Park Authority.
